Deputy Sheriffs take time to interact with students by teaching them how to march and have fun by showing off their dance moves. Even Sheriff Leroy Ravenell is available to read with students to encourage children and emphasize that an education is important and we want them to do well in school.

Deputy Sheriffs support their community through charity basketball and softball games. Deputies also participate in fundraisers like Cop on Top at Chick-fil-A where officers stay on the top of the building until they reach their goal or serving patrons at area restaurants for tips. The tips are donated to groups like the Special Olympics.
Deputy Sheriffs work in schools as School Resource Officers to keep children safe during the school day, on field trips, and after school activities. School Resource Officers serve as role models, develop local programs and utilize national programs like Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) and Gang Resistance Education And Training (G.R.E.A.T.) to teach students about the consequences of bad decisions.

Deputy Sheriffs go to schools and attend community events to share with citizens the special equipment we use.

Deputy Sheriffs also share some of the techniques we use to identify persons who may have committed a crime.

Deputy Sheriffs work with the community to check on elderly and vulnerable adults, provide citizens with fans during the summer, provide security in emergency shelter during weather events, perform security audits on your home or business to determine if there are any steps you can take to make it more secure, assist neighborhoods in setting up crime watch programs and check your house and property when you are going to be out of town.
